Daddy Daughter Dance Recap On April 22, 2017, St. Luke's hosted a Daddy Daughter Dance themed after the Van Gogh painting 'A Starry Night'. As a follow-up to last year's 'Enchantment Under the Sea', guests were taken on a journey this year to an elegant art gallery where samples of Van Gogh's 'Starry Night' paintings hung in splendor in the St. Luke's Fellowship Hall. We welcomed 154 guests this year to enjoy an evening of pictures 'on the moon', dinner, and dancing. The girls began their evening by creating their very own princess wand while Dad (or male father figure) wrote a note to his princess on a postcard that is mailed the following week. What a special prize to cherish from a memorable evening of fun.

This year dinner was served family-style. We chose this over last year's buffet because families are so busy these days and rarely have time to just sit around the table and enjoy each other's company. When dinner was over, an amazing table of desserts was brought out. The dancing began soon after that and it was so much fun to see dads and daughters on the dance floor dancing away to the 'Cha Cha Slide' or the 'Macarena'. But the best part was when dad held his little girl in his arms as he slow-danced to meaningful songs like Steven Curtis Chapman's 'Cinderella'...So I'll dance with Cinderella while she is here in my arms, 'cause all too soon the clock will strike midnight and she'll be gone.

St. Luke's received wonderful compliments of what an outstanding outreach this is in order to show our girls the way that they should be treated...like daughters of the One True King!
